STEP5

5.1 Tighten all the screws and nuts, install the ashtray(13) by aligning slots with legs and rotating to lock in place.

5.2 Place the charcoal grate (6) onto the fire bowl, and place the cooking grill (5). Then finished the assembly.

OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS

Before using the appliance for the first time, peel off any promotional materials and packaging materials, and check that the cooking plates are clean and free of dust. If necessary, wipe them over with a damp cloth. Spread over with an absorbent kitchen towel and wipe off any excess oil. When your product is heated for the first time, it may emit slight smoke or odor, which is normal for many heating appliances, and will not affect the safety of your appliance.

1. Place the product on a clean, dry, level surface.
2. The barbeque should be heated up for at least 30 minutes prior to the first cooking on the barbeque.
3. Lift up the warming rack and remove the cooking grid and place a small quantity of charcoal onto the charcoal grid. Light in accordance with the instructions on the charcoal pack.
3. When the charcoal becomes red hot, add more charcoal for cooking. The maximum fill level for charcoal is approx 1.32Lb (0.6Kg).
4. Wait approximately 15 minutes before placing the cooking grid on to start cooking. Do not cook before the charcoal has a coating of ash.
5. To extinguish, wait for the charcoal to stop burning and for it to completely cool.

WARNING! Do not use spirit or petrol for lighting or relighting. Use only firelighters complying to EN 1860-3.

WARNING! When using your barbecue for the first time, allow the charcoal to remain red hot for an additional 15 minutes before cooking.

WARNING! Accessible parts will be hot - avoid touching the BBQ while hot, however if it is necessary, make sure to wear oven gloves when touching the barbecue.

WARNING! Do not extinguish with water as this may damage the barbecue.

COOKING TIPS & HINTS

Please read and follow this advice when cooking on your product.

1. Always wash your hands before and after handling uncooked meat and before eating.
2. Always keep raw meat away from cooked meat and other foods.
3. Before cooking, ensure grill surfaces and tools are clean and free of old food residues.
4. DO NOT use the same utensils to handle cooked and uncooked foods.
5. Ensure all meat is cooked thoroughly before eating.

CAUTION:

6. ALWAYS wash your hands before or after handling uncooked meat and before eating.
7. ALWAYS keep raw meat away from cooked meat and other foods. Before lighting your BBQ, ensure grill surfaces and tools are clean and free of old food residues.
8. DO NOT use the same utensils to handle cooked and uncooked foods. Ensure all meat is cooked thoroughly before eating.
9. CAUTION - eating raw or under cooked meat can cause food poisoning (e.g.bacteria strains such as E.coli).
10. To reduce the risk of under cooked meat, cut it open to ensure it is cooked all the way through internally before consuming.
11. CAUTION-if meat has been cooked sufficiently the meat juices should be clear in colour and there should be no traces of pink/red juices or meat colouring.
12. After cooking with your BBQ always clean the grill cooking surfaces and utensils.

FOOD SAFETY

1. Thoroughly defrost frozen meat and poultry in the refrigerator before cooking. Keep raw meat and poultry separate from cooked foods.
2. Always wash hands after handling raw meat and poultry, before handling any ready to eat foods.
3. Wipe and disinfect surfaces that have been in contact with raw meat and poultry.
4. When barbecuing meat and poultry, make sure the barbecue is extremely hot. Place the larger, thicker portions furthest away from the most intense heat to ensure thorough cooking without burning and turn regularly.
5. Use separate utensils for handling raw meat/poultry and cooked food on the barbecue, or wash them thoroughly between uses.
6. To check whether meat, particularly poultry, is cooked, pierce the flesh with a skewer or fork; the juices should run clear. Ensure the product is piping hot throughout.

CLEAING MAINTENANCE

1. Allow the barbecue and ash to become completely cold before emptying.
2. Lift the warming rack and remove the cooking grid to ensure easy removal of the charcoal.
3. Remove the charcoal grid from the bowl and safely dispose of the cold ash in a fire proof container, or dampen with water to ensure the ash is entirely cold before disposing in a suitable container.
4. Detach the ash cup and dispose of the ash.
5. Empty the ash from the barbecue and clean after each use.
6. The warming rack, cooking grid and charcoal grid , can be cleaned using a dishcloth, warm water and a commercial detergent. Avoid using abrasive cleaners, and wire wool and brushes as these may scratch the surface.

STORAGE

1. Always make sure the machine is cool and dry before string.
2. Store the appliance in a dry and clean area.
