PLAN FOR SUCCESS

1. Setting Flex up in the place you want it to reside will reduce the need to move it once it's assembled. Open all seat boxes and lay them out where you want your furniture to go.

(See figure 1.) Note: Each seat base has two side rails – these are the sides of the seat box, while the non-railed sides are the front and back

2. Open all back, arm, and corner back boxes.

3. Insert your J-Brackets into the white markers on all backs, arms, and corner backs so that they're ready to be dropped in when you get to their steps. (See figure 2.)

If you're building a chair, loveseat or sofa, proceed to the next page.

If you're building a sectional, go to page 10.

CREATE A SEAT BASE AND BACK COMBO

This is your foundation for building a chair, loveseat, or sofa.

Step 1: Seat Base

Attach a C-Clip to the white disc on the side of the seat base without the rail. Line up the holes of the C-Clip and white disc and fasten securely with a thumbscrew.

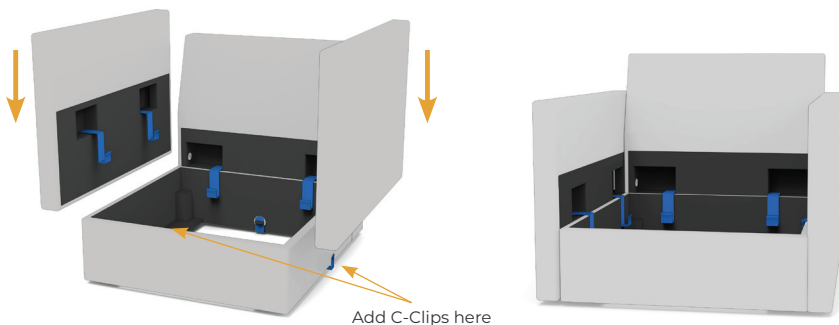

Step 2: Back

Insert J-Brackets into the white indicators in the back. Then, slide the back with the J-Brackets onto the seat base.

If you're building a chair, proceed to the next page. If you're building a loveseat or sofa, repeat steps 1 and 2 for each seat needed. Then, go to page 8.

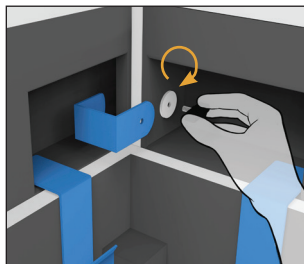

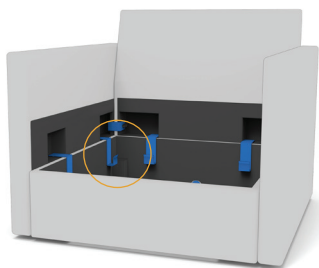

BUILD OUT FOR CHAIR

Step 3: Arms

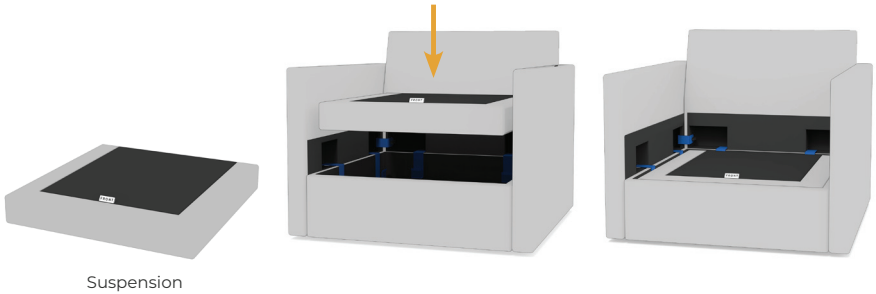

Attach C-Clips to the white discs on the sides of the seat base with the rails. Line up the holes of the C-Clip and white disc and fasten securely with a thumbscrew. Place J-Brackets into the white indicators in the arms and slide the arms into the sides of the seat base. Align the front of the arm with the front of the seat base so that they're even.

Note: The arm has a slit in the fabric on the bottom to allow the C-Clip to hold it.

Step 4: Secure the Arms

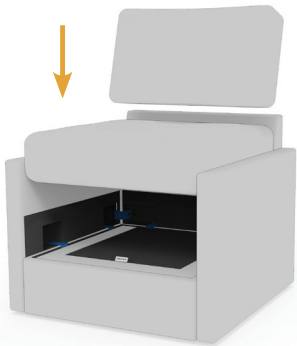

Attach the C-Clip to the white discs in each corner to connect the back to the arm. Line up the holes of the C-Clip and white disc and fasten securely with a thumbscrew.

Suspension

Step 5: Blue Steel Spring™ Suspension

Set the suspension into the seat base. The “Front” tag should be facing the front of the chair.

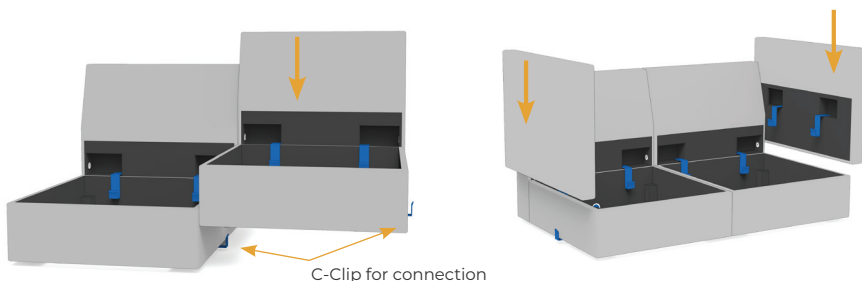

Step 6: Cushions

Place the seat and back cushions.

Step 7: Relax!

BUILD OUT FOR LOVESEAT OR SOFA

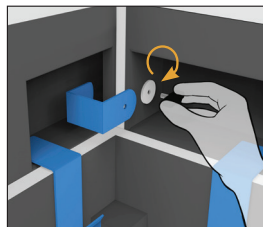

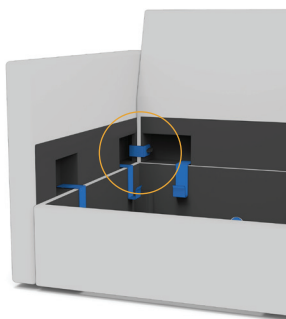

Step 3: Connect the Seats

Once you have your multiple seat boxes and back units built, connect them with a C-Clip in the middle to make the loveseat or sofa.

Step 4: Add the Arms

Place J-Brackets into the white indicators in the arms and slide the arms into the ends of the seat bases. Align the front of the arm with the front of the seat base so that they're even.

Note: The arm has a slit in the fabric on the bottom to allow the C-Clip to hold it.

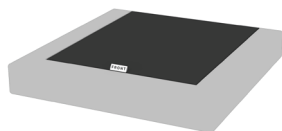

Step 5: Secure the Arms

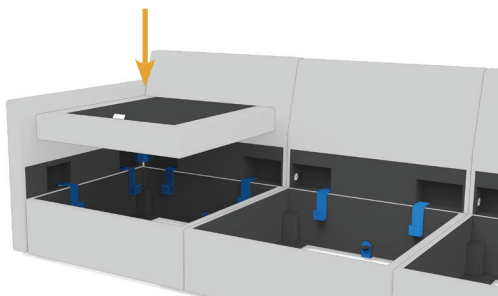

Attach the C-Clips to the white discs in each corner to connect the back to the arm. Line up the holes of the C-Clip and white disc and fasten securely with a thumbscrew.

It is not required to connect backs together side to side with a C-Clip. Your order may include extra C-Clips.

BUILD OUT FOR A SECTIONAL

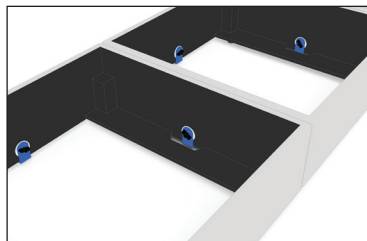

Tip: Pre-Plan

Prepare your layout by setting the seat boxes where you want your sectional placed. All of the rails on the seat boxes should be on the sides, and the non-railed sides should be facing front/back.

C-Clip & Thumbscrew

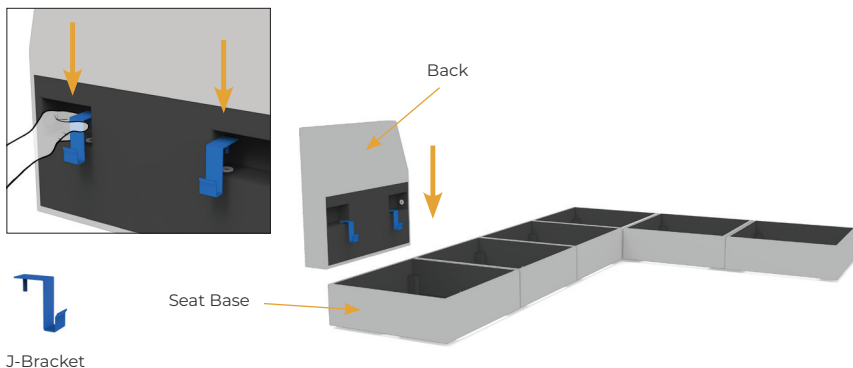

Step 1A: Seat Bases

Attach a C-clip to the white disc on the side of the seat base without the rail. Line up the holes of the C-Clip and white disc and fasten securely with a thumbscrew.

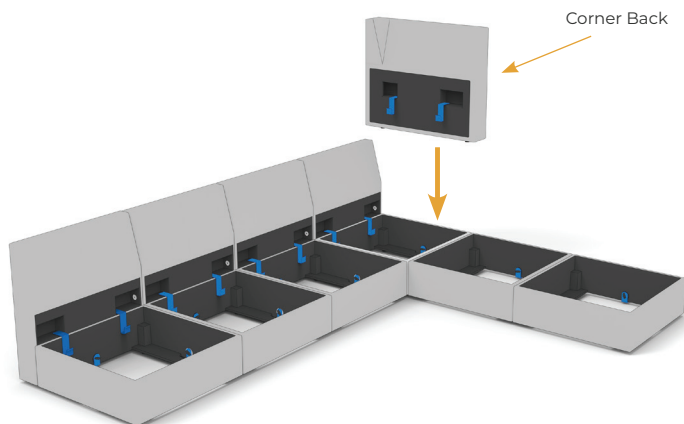

Step 1B: Connect Seat Bases

Once you have your multiple seat boxes and back units built, connect them with a C-Clip in the middle to make the sectional.

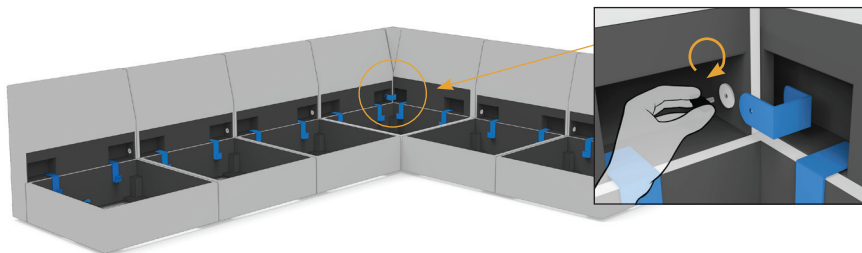

Step 2: Backs

Insert J-Brackets into the white indicators on the backs. Then, slide the backs with the J-Brackets onto the seat bases.

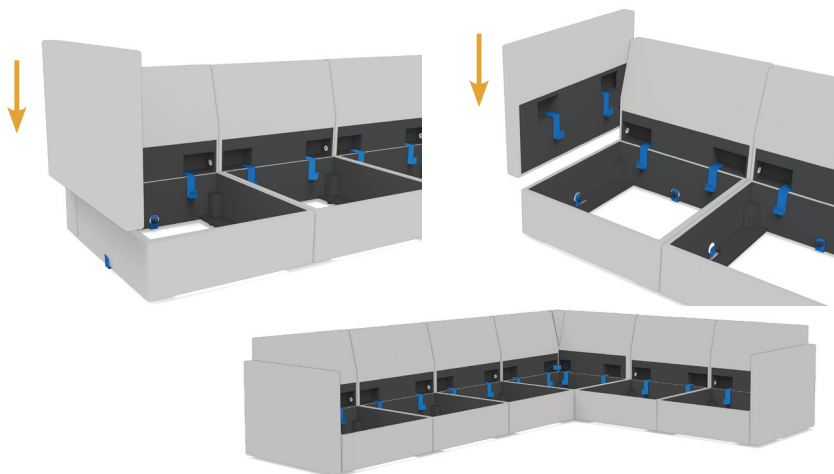

Step 3A: Corner Back

Insert the J-Brackets into the white indicators on the corner back and drop the corner back into the corner seat base.

Step 3B: Securing the Corner Back

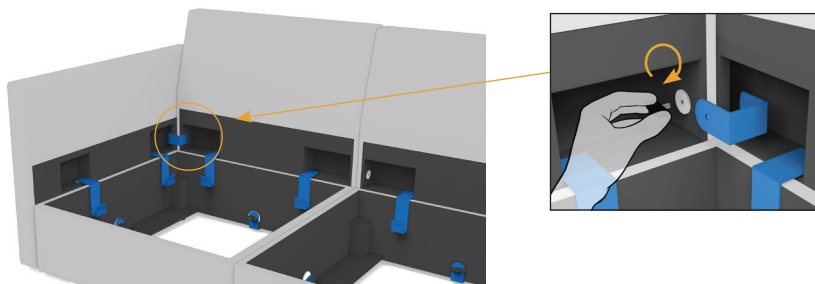

Secure the corner back by using a C-Clip for the side-to-side connection.

Step 4A: Arms

Add C-Clips to the far sides of the sectional seat bases that have rails. Place J-Brackets into the white indicators in the arms and slide the arms into the ends of the seat bases. Make sure the front of the arm is even with the front of the seat base.

Note: The arm has a slit in the fabric on the bottom to allow the C-Clip to hold it.

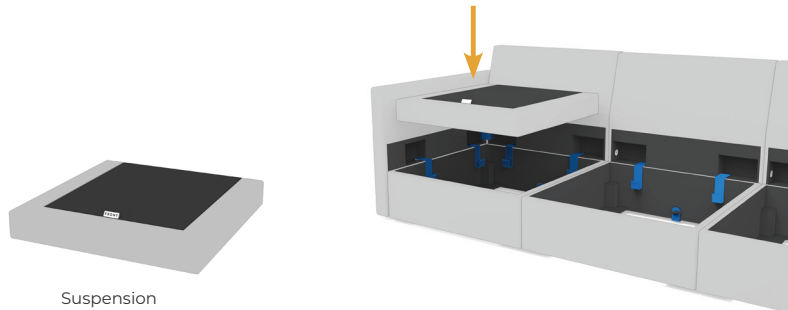

4B: Secure the Arms

Attach the C-Clips to the white discs in each corner to connect the back to the arms. Line up the holes of the C-Clip and white disc and fasten securely with a thumbscrew.

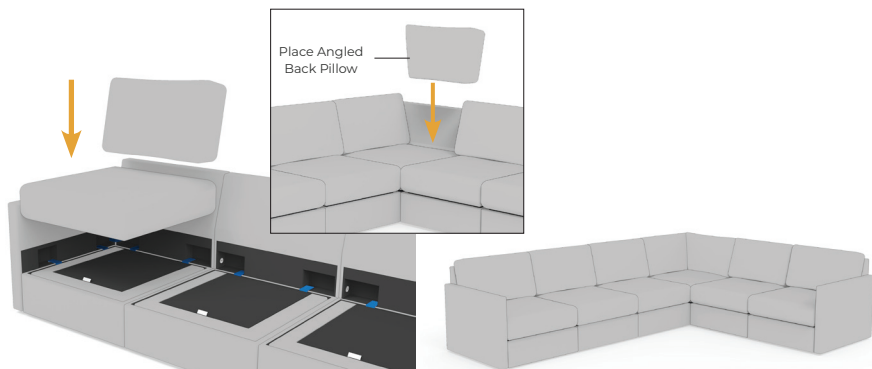

It is not required to connect backs together side to side with a C-Clip. Your order may include extra C-Clips.

Suspension

Step 5: Blue Steel Spring™ Suspension

Set the suspension into each seat box. The “Front” tag should be facing the front of the sectional seats.

Step 6: Cushions

Place the seat and back cushions on each seat. The angled pillow goes on the corner back.

Step 7: Relax!

FABRIC CARE INFORMATION

Flex is upholstered with Livesmart Evolve fabric – a sustainably-made, high-performing fabric that contains approximately 9 standard-sized plastic water bottles per linear yard of fabric. It is a fabric that you can feel good about.

With exceptional moisture and stain-resistance, Livesmart Evolve is designed for life's moments.

Messes happen. Livesmart Evolve is engineered for easy cleanup.

All spills should be treated promptly for the best results and ease of removal. Most spills can be cleaned by gently lifting the spill with a paper towel, or a clean, dry, absorbent cloth.

1. Mix – Use a water-based soap mixture that combines 1 teaspoon of liquid detergent, such as Tide, with 16 ounces of lukewarm water.
2. Blot – Dampen the cleaning cloth in the mixture and gently blot the soiled area. Avoid rubbing the affected area aggressively.
3. Rinse – Rinse the area with a clean, damp cloth to ensure all soap residue is removed.

Removing dried non-liquid spills may require a soft brush or butter knife on the affected area before wet treatment. Excessive spills may require consultation with a professional upholstery cleaning company.
