

CARE GUIDE

STAINLESS STEEL

RUVATI®

This comprehensive care guide for stainless steel sinks is designed to help you maintain its beauty and durability while ensuring a pristine appearance for years to come.

General Care:

- Remove any sponges, scrub brushes, rinse grids, or other items from the sink when not in use to prevent blemishes from forming on the sink surface.
- Clean the sink daily using a sponge or a soft cloth with warm water and dish soap.
- Thoroughly rinse the sink. Do not leave food or cleaning agents on the sink surface.
- Gently dry the sink with a soft microfiber cloth after each use.

Surface Protection:

- Polish the sink as needed and after cleaning with a microfiber cloth and mineral oil or a stainless steel polish.

Water Spots:

- Allow a 50/50 water-vinegar solution to soak on the sink surface for 5-10 minutes or use a stainless steel cleaner such as Bar Keepers Friend Cleanser.
- Always scrub in the direction of the grain.
- Thoroughly rinse the sink.
- Gently dry the sink with a soft microfiber cloth after use.

Deep Cleaning & Rust:

- Once every other week, scrub the sink bowl using a stainless steel cleaner such as Bar Keepers Friend.
- Always scrub in the direction of the grain.
- For sinks with sharp (zero-radius) corners use a small brush, such as a tooth brush, to effectively remove contaminants from the corners.
- Thoroughly rinse the sink.
- Gently dry the sink with a soft microfiber cloth after.

Scratches & Chemical Discoloration:

- Use Bar Keepers Friend Cleanser & 3M Scotch Brite scrub pad
- Always scrub in the direction of the grain.
- Thoroughly rinse the sink.
- Gently dry the sink with a soft microfiber cloth after use.
- Use a stainless steel repair kit and follow kit's instructions.

✓ DO's

Always have the rinse grid in the sink when the sink is in use.

Always scrub in the same direction as the grain.

Always rinse and dry the sink after use.

✗ DON'Ts

Never use cleaning products containing bleach, chlorine or ammonia.

Never use abrasive cleaning products such as steel wool.
