Maintaining Porcelain Tiles:

Polished surfaces may become scratched due to abrasion from dust particles. To prevent this, remove dirt or debris using untreated dust mops, soft bristle brooms, or a vacuum cleaner and mop with clean warm water.

Use neutral cleaning solutions by following manufacturer directions to clean porcelain surfaces, avoiding products that contain fats, acids, or oils to prevent damage or discoloration. Test cleaning solutions in an isolated area before proceeding to use them.

For persistent messes, use natural-bristle brushes, nylon scrubbing pads, or floor machines for cleaning, using degreaser and other products where necessary. Then rinse the surface with clean warm water and dry or buff thoroughly to avoid streaking or spotting and shine the surface.
