

Rays Warranty Text

This Rays product has a limited warranty of 1 year from the date of purchase (according to the product packaging or warranty statement). This warranty applies to the first end user, is not transferable to subsequent owners, and only applies to the country/region of purchase. Including all express and implied guarantees, but not limited to the guarantees for merchantability and for a specific purpose, and are limited to the above-mentioned period.

This warranty does not apply to third-party components or software provided by Rays products that are not produced by Rays. Rays makes no warranty of any kind for such products, and such products are provided "as is" (if included).

If a Rays product fails during the warranty period, Rays will decide to replace the parts or the product free of charge at its discretion. The premise is that the product has not been improperly used, abused, or changed, modified or repaired without the authorization of Rays, and the failure is not caused by external environmental factors.

Rays does not guarantee that the product will not have vulnerabilities in the event of intrusion or other external attacks.

When returning the product, please attach a warranty card as proof of purchase. The return request cannot be processed without a warranty card. The buyer is responsible for the transportation related to the return of the goods to Rays.

Under any circumstance, Rays is not responsible for the losses caused by the user's use or inability to use Rays products, including loss of profits, monetary losses or other incidental or corresponding losses. Rays is not responsible for any such data, and is not responsible for the damage or loss of such data while the product is owned by the user.

Rays reserves the right to modify or update its products, software or documents without notifying any individual or group.

Rays products are limited to the country/region of purchase. In any case, when the user uses the software or documentation attached to the product and causes direct, indirect, special, incidental or corresponding damages, Rays' responsibility should not exceed the price of the product.
