HADEN's Heritage

With over 150 years of manufacturing experience, it was in 1869 that Alfred Haden commenced his story in the West Midlands of England as a bicycle-making business. At the forefront of innovation, A.H. Haden Motorcycles rapidly established to become a market leader.

In 1937 Alfred's sons Donald and Denis took over the business becoming 'Haden Bros'. Leveraging on their manufacturing expertise, the brothers diversified their product portfolio and expanded their manufacturing base.

In 1958, Denis decided to focus his efforts on manufacturing kettles launching his own company D.H. Haden Ltd. History was then made, as Denis Haden was one of the early pioneers of the modern electric kettle as we know it.

Embodying this rich history, our products have been developed with a quintessentially British style, high functionality and a stylish coordinated look.

1880s

Originally a bicycle-making business, A.H. Haden Motorcycles in Hockley, Birmingham, started in the late 1880s.

1905 - 1931

New Comet were motorcycles designed and produced from 1905 to 1931, by Alfred Hamlet Haden.

1944

Twin brothers, Donald and Denis Haden became involved in manufacturing Bescol kettles.

1958

The two brothers split and Denis Howard Haden founded his own separate company D.H. Haden Ltd. to manufacture electric kettles.

1958 - 1980s

D.H. Haden Ltd. pioneered in manufacturing electric kettles.

1981 - Present

Haden becomes synonymous with the words 'Electric Kettle'.

inspired by our PAST powered by the FUTURE

Taking inspiration from British homes, architecture, and landscapes to offer quintessentially British designs, the Haden brand embodies a purposeful beauty that sets its products apart and reflects the perfect balance between form and function.

Our Turquoise colour was inspired by the vibrant hue of the Cornwall coast.

The striking plumage of the Smew species of ducks that shelter during winter on the Kent coast is where we derive our Ivory.

The Dorset region features clay valleys where we selected a Putty to pay homage to this beautiful county.

The radiant gleam of Copper harkens back to Britain's metallurgic history.

Rectory Red is the traditional colour used to paint the doors of churches and cathedrals throughout England.

Brighton is a seaside resort with a temperate, oceanic climate that gives our Sky Blue colour it's descriptive moniker.
