Use and Care

Part one: Using Metal Portable Folding Chairs and Tables

1. Setting Up the Chairs and Tables
Place the chair on a flat surface. Hold the top of the backrest and the front edge of the seat. Gently pull the backrest upwards while pushing the seat downwards until the chair locks into place.
2. Folding the Chairs and Tables
Stand behind the chair. Push the seat upwards while pulling the backrest downwards. Make sure the chair is fully folded and secure any locking mechanisms if available.
3. Safety Tips
Ensure all locking mechanisms are engaged before use.Place chairs and tables on stable, level surfaces to prevent tipping.Avoid exceeding the weight limits specified by the manufacturer.

Part two: Caring for Your Metal Portable Folding Chairs and Tables

Regular Cleaning
1. Mix a small amount of mild soap with water.
2. Dip a soft cloth or sponge into the soapy water and gently clean all surfaces of the chair or table.
3. Rinse with clean water to remove any soap residue.
4. Dry thoroughly with a clean, dry cloth to prevent rust.
Preventing and Treating Rust
1. Inspect the chairs and tables regularly for any signs of rust.
2. For minor rust spots, sand the area lightly with sandpaper.
3. Apply a rust remover if necessary, following the product instructions.
4. Repaint the affected area with metal primer and paint if rust is extensive.
5. Apply a clear sealant or rust inhibitor spray to prevent future rust.
Store chairs and tables in a dry, covered area when not in use. Use protective covers to shield them from moisture and dust. Avoid stacking heavy objects on top of the folded chairs and tables to prevent damage.

By following these guidelines, you can ensure that your metal portable folding chairs and tables remain in good condition and provide reliable service for your outdoor activities. Regular maintenance, proper use, and appropriate storage are key to extending their lifespan and maintaining their appearance and functionality. Enjoy your outdoor adventures with the peace of mind that your equipment is well cared for!