Outdoor Furniture Care and Maintenance Guide

Proper care and maintenance of your outdoor furniture are essential to ensure its longevity and keep it looking great. Follow these guidelines to keep your furniture in top condition.

1. Pre - Use Preparation

Before the first use, gently wipe down the wicker or rattan parts of the furniture with a clean, damp cloth or towel. This helps to remove any dust or debris that may have accumulated during storage or transportation.

2. Protecting from the Elements

Rain and Sun Exposure: To extend the lifespan of your furniture, avoid subjecting it to prolonged periods of rain and direct sunlight. Extended exposure to these elements can cause fading, warping, and damage to the materials.

Sheltered Placement: Whenever possible, position your furniture under a patio cover, awning, or other shaded area. This provides a shield against the harshest effects of the weather.

3. Cushion Care

Water - Repellent Coating: The cushion covers are equipped with a water - repellent coating. However, they are not designed to withstand heavy rain or have large amounts of water or other liquids sitting on them for extended periods.

Rainy Day Precautions: On rainy days, it is advisable to bring the cushions indoors. If water or liquid accidentally spills on the cushion cover, promptly dry the surface to prevent water from seeping through and causing damage to the padding inside.

Washing Instructions:

Frequency: We do not recommend frequent washing of the cushion covers as it can damage the UV - protection coating.

Hand - Washing: For the best results, hand - wash the cushion covers with a mild cleanser. This helps to preserve the integrity of the coating.

Machine - Washing: If machine - washing is unavoidable, select the soft or delicate cycle. Avoid using bleach or other harsh solvents as they can damage the fabric. Do not tumble dry the cushion covers, as this may cause them to shrink. Instead, allow them to air dry completely.

4. Seasonal Storage

During the cold winter months, it is beneficial to store the furniture indoors. This protects it from freezing temperatures, snow, and ice, which can cause damage to the materials.

5. Furniture Cleaning

General Cleaning: Wash the furniture and cushions with a solution of mild soap and water. After washing, allow them to air dry thoroughly. Do not use bleach or other solvents, as they can damage the finish and materials of the furniture.

Glass Top Cleaning: When cleaning the glass top, exercise caution to avoid scratching or cracking it. Use a soft, clean cloth or towel to gently wipe the surface.

By following these care and maintenance instructions, you can enjoy your outdoor furniture for many years to come.
