

YOU NEED PROTECTION

Decibels (dB)

*Prolonged exposure to sounds at 85 dBA and higher increases risk of permanent hearing loss. OSHA regulation 1910.95 requires that hearing protection be available to workers with Time-Weighted Average (TWA) noise exposures at or above this level. Risk increases with sound level and longer exposure time.