PLANTING & GERMINATION

Add 1 cup of water to the soil. Sprinkle 6-8 seeds and push each $\frac{1}{4}$ " into soil. Place planter in sunny window (8+ hours of direct sunlight) or under a grow light. Keep soil moist by adding $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of water twice a week. Place lid on top of planter in between waterings until seedlings appear - this increases humidity and aids in germination. Seeds will germinate in 7-10 days.

Recommended watering:
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup twice a week
or when soil appears dry

EARLY GROWTH

When seedlings reach ~2" tall, use your thumb and forefinger to remove all but the 3 healthiest seedlings. When seedlings reach ~4" tall, remove all but 1 seedling.

Recommended watering:
or when soil appears dry

GREEN GROWTH

After thinning, your plant will spend the next few weeks growing a larger stem and plenty of leaves. Keep watering, and watch it grow!

Recommended watering:
1 cup twice a week
or when soil appears dry

FLOWERING & FRUITING

When flowers appear (~6-7 weeks), push one fertilizer spike into the soil, away from stems and roots. When flowers open, tap the base of the plant for 30 seconds to help with pollination. When small tomatoes appear, add the second fertilizer spike.

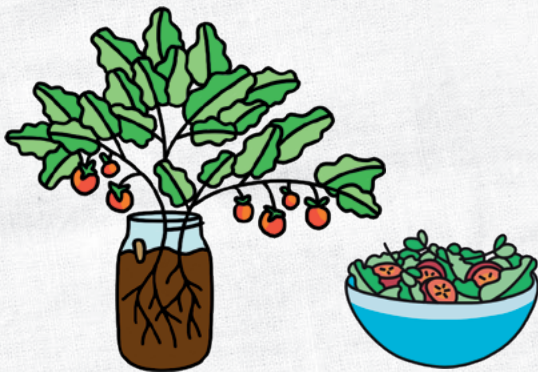

Recommended watering:
1 1/2 cups twice a week
or when soil appears dry

HARVEST & KEEP GROWING

Your tomatoes will grow to be the size of grapes, and will change from green to red on the stem! Tomatoes are ripe once they are fully red. And your first crop is just the beginning - keep watering and more tomatoes are likely to come!
