

Cooks Standard

Limited 10 Years Warranty

Cooks Standard Stainless steel is manufactured and inspected to ensure the best cooking performance. It is guaranteed to be free from defects in materials and workshop under normal household use for 10 years' time of cookware.

To the original purchaser, Cooks Standard promises to repair or replace any item found defective in material or workmanship. Limited 10 Years Warranty provides 1-year free replacement part from the original purchase date; after the first year of purchase, Cooks Standard will charge a shipping fee from customers.

The warranty does not cover the damage caused by accident, misuse, abuse, or commercial use. Scratches, stains, discoloration, damage from overheating, or damaged from use of an automatic dishwasher is not covered by this warranty. Incidental or consequential damages are not covered by this warranty.

When the product is out of production, Cooks Standard will replace it with a similar pan of similar value.

When returning the product for repair or replacement, please contact Cooks Standard customer service. Please include your purchase order form, your shipping address, the description of the defect and your phone number.