

Due to the quality problems of the product itself, the customer can timely initiate a reissue application or return.

If it is not intentionally damaged within 6 months of use, you can apply for replacement parts.