FOREVER-BOLT® with NL-19®

Foreverbolt® was developed for those who demand truly corrosion-free fasteners.

Designers, fabricators, engineers and construction professionals have long been waiting for a way to prevent their stainless steel creations from corroding.

With its unique proprietary NL-19® treatment, Foreverbolt® takes fasteners to an entirely new level of performance.

It's not a coating. It's science.™

WHY DO YOU NEED FOREVERBOLT?

15 years in the making, NL-19® is FOREVERBOLT proprietary lab-tested treatment that modifies the surface of stainless steel products. Producing a brighter finish, increased strength, and superior corrosion resistance, all without effecting the fastener's exterior dimensions.

With more than 30 years of engineering and fabrication knowledge, we understand how to make a better fastener.

Foreverbolt® employed a third-party independent laboratory to expose our treated fasteners to rigorous testing. Samples were subjected to an accelerated 360 hour ASTM B117 salt spray test, 7x longer than the standard 48 hour test. They were then subjected to a 96 hour open-air test. The results were astounding. NL-19® treated fasteners showed no signs of corrosion.

Additionally, Twining Laboratory tested for hardness and tensile strength. NL-19® fasteners yielded an additional 1.9% gain in strength.

The cost to prevent corrosion can be extensive when you factor in inspections, maintenance, repairs of parts, backup inventory and refurbishment.

The Foreverbolt® NL-19® treatment is an advanced corrosion protection that can dramatically reduce future maintenance and repair costs.
